INDIAN LUCY GETS A YEAR IN PRISON

Another Incident in Her Variegated Career—J. G. C. Mountcastle Goes Free.

Indian Lucy figured in two cases before Justice John yesterday. She has been figuring in cases before him for many years. The penitentiary knows her and the jail is a familiar place to her. On Saturday night Indian Lucy, sometimes known as Lucy Smith, was drunk and disorderly, and got into a row at Scale House corner. Several women got mixed up in the melee, and when it was over Indian Lucy had an ugly looking cut in her shoulder.

She was carried to the first station and treated by the ambulance surgeon and then she was bailed out.

She was in a room full of people Sunday night, among them being a negro named Charles Mitchell. Charles had $4 in his pocket, and in a little while Indian Lucy had the money. It couldn't be found, so she was arrested and carried to the first station again, and yesterday morning Justice John sent her on to the grand jury and placed her under bonds for twelve months.

The charge of taking $120 from G. W. Boney, preferred against J. G. C. Mountcastle, was not sustained and he was dismissed.

Mr. Boney thought he had the money in his pocket when he went to sleep, and it was gone when he awoke, and he saw Mr. Mountcastle and another man in the room. Mr. Mountcastle had none of the money when he was arrested, nor had he the opportunity to dispose of it.

G. W. Sheppard was charged by Joseph Hill with selling liquor on Sunday and with shooting at him, and Hill was charged with trespass.

No proof was given that the barroom was open, and Hill said he swore out the charge because he was mad.

Hill was fined $10 for trespass and disorderly conduct and Sheppard paid $10 for shooting the pistol.

Jack Moore, a negro boy, was with another boy at the first station. They saw a pistol on the ground and ran to pick it up, and a little scuffle ensued as to which one should have the weapon. The Moore boy was arrested, for he had the pistol in his pocket, but he was discharged as it was not a serious case.

Melissa Fields, alias Minor, was disorderly on the street to the extent of $5.

H. D. Bullock, for being drunk and disorderly in a store, paid $5.

Willie Beaton, charged with taking some meat from Martha Pulliam, valued at $4, had his case continued to the 25th.

Richard Evans (colored) beat Solomon Jordan and it cost him $5.

Charles Wilson went to the rock-pile for thirty days as a vag.

John N. Coble abused and kicked Win. Johnson—$10.

James A. Garfield (colored) was sent to the rock-pile for thirty days.

Tasmanian Devil Arrives.

The man, new and novel features of the trained wild animal world, have been presented at the Bostock show have certainly met with the appreciation of a generous and amusement-loving public. For the coming week there is announced a special feature in the arrival of a sacred giant Hamadryad baboons from the gaboons of Africa. These animals are known as the lion slayers. They are gregarious and herd together in droves or communities. Should any lion foolishly be taken with hungry notions and be so foolish as to attack and kill one of these beasts, the remainder of the tribe at once set about him, and in a few moments, where was once a lordly and magnificent lion, there is nothing left but a tattered skin, torn beyond recognition and left as a prey for the vultures and beasts of the forest. The Hamadryad is looked upon as a most sacred animal, the killing of whom means death and disaster to those who interfere with him. Also there has come to hand "two emus from South Australia, two casowaries from Van Diemen's land, and the famous Tasmanian Devil from Van Diemen's land." This animal, unlike all others, is the most remarkable creature on earth. It has the form of a bear, the whine of a pig, the laughter of an idiot, the bark of a dog, the mournful howl of the wolf, and the deep bellowing of the ox. He is a most remarkable creature, and should be duly observed.

For the coming week is announced La Belle Sellen, with her trained group of lions, and Herman Weedon's combination group of trained tigers, bears, four hounds, lions and other animals.

On Thursday, January 29, is announced a special benefit for the Woman's Christian Association.

HE YIELDED TO A MOTHER'S PRAYER

The Governor Pardons Young George P. Holman, the Fluvanna Man.

The pleadings of a heart-broken mother have been heard by Governor Montague, who yesterday granted a conditional pardon to George P. Holman, the young man convicted of attempted assault upon Miss Cora Lucy, of this city, and sentenced to jail for twelve months.

The case attracted a great deal of attention at the time, and the charge against Holman was as serious and grave as possible. After prolonged trials, both in the Police Court and before Judge Witt, of the Hustings Court, Holman was sent to jail for twelve months in October, 1902, convicted of common assault and battery. Two features of the case gave it prominence. Holman is the son of a former Judge Holman, of Fluvanna county, and has many well-known family connections throughout the State. The young lady who preferred the charge is a daughter of the gentleman with whom Holman boarded at the time of the assault. She was subject to fits and her mind is not strong. Holman invited her to go to an entertainment with him, given by a friend of theirs on West Clay Street. Returning and being caught in the rain, Holman, according to her story, took her to the house of his washwoman on the plea of borrowing an umbrella.

Messrs. George B. Wise, of this city, and Fenbrook Pettit, of Fluvanna, eliminated the element of criminal assault and brought in a verdict only for common assault.

When the news of her son's trouble reached his mother in Fluvanna, she was almost prostrated, and the grief he brought her into seriously ill health. The Governor hopes that if her boy is returned to her she may improve and the years of her life lengthened. One of the conditions of the pardon is that the son return to her in Fluvanna.

His Excellency gives these reasons for the exercise of clemency:

This is a conviction of simple assault and confinement in the city jail for one year. Nine of the members of the Legislature, together with many other citizens, urge me to pardon this young man.

In view of these considerations and the health and pathetic condition of his mother, I am constrained to pardon the prisoner, conditioned upon his return to Fluvanna county and his good behavior and failure to violate any of the laws of the Commonwealth.

A Pound Party.

The Eye, Ear and Throat Infirmary will be the beneficiary of a pound party to be given next Friday evening, January 30th, at No. 217 Governor Street, and this institution deserves the aid of all.

HAVE NO RIGHT TO REBUKE THE WORLD

The view Taken By a Methodist Minister of the Duties of the Preachers.

That ministers of the gospel have no right to rebuke the world for the sins of omission and commission is the opinion expressed Sunday evening by the Rev. H. M. Maxey in a sermon delivered by him at the Asbury Methodist Church, of which he is the pastor.

Mr. Maxey was discussing the very interesting question of "The Duties and Privileges of the Ministry," a subject which has gained more or less prominence here recently. In the construction of his thought he divided all men into two classes—those in the church and those out of the church, or of the world. The church, he said, has placed itself under the care and guidance of the ministry; the world has not. There should therefore be a difference in the manner in which a preacher should approach the two. The fact that there should be such a difference is upheld by right, expediency, courtesy, and scripture. Following out this thought, Mr. Maxey declared that the church minister has a right to rebuke, to rebuke and exhort. In the world he has no such right. Here he must be an evangelist, he must seek to lead men and to persuade men, but there he must stop.

It is not his privilege here to rebuke. The pulpit must never be personal. It should condemn lying and stealing but it should not say to some particular man or men "You are liars," or "You are thieves."

REPLY TO HAWTHORNE

Dr. Kerr on the "Pulpit and Politics."

PREACH THE GOSPEL

Pastor of the First Church Says the War Between the States Was Brought on in Part by Political Preaching.

A large audience heard Dr. R. P. Kerr preach Sunday night at the First Presbyterian Church on "The Pulpit and Politics"—a sermon of the nature of a reply to Dr. J. B. Hawthorne and others who have contended for an application of the Gospel to current events.

Christ was tried before Pilate, said Dr. Kerr, for meddling with politics, and he repeated the charge made at the judgment of our Saviour when the Jews cried out, "We found this fellow seducing the people, and forbidding them to give tribute to Caesar, saying that he himself is Christ, a King. He that maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar." But Pilate acquiesced in saying he found no fault in him, for Christ had told Pilate that he was a king, but that his kingdom was not of this world. "I come to bear witness," he said, "to the truth." So it was that Pilate decided that Christ's kingdom was but a sect of Judaism, a religion, it was a contest, every Jew, Judaism, with its Messiah come and its prophecies fulfilled.

In the second place, Dr. Kerr said, there were two things that Christ meant. First of all, that His kingdom was not of this world, but a spiritual kingdom. It had to do first of all with man's relation to God, and secondly, with His relation to his fellow-man. It had no material rewards and punishments and nothing to do directly with worldly kingdoms and earthly places. It was propagated only by the truth. He came into the world to bear witness to the truth and thus establish His kingdom.

The commission to the church and to the pulpit, said Dr. Kerr, is to preach the Gospel to every creature, to teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. The Gospel, then, is whatsoever Christ commanded by word or deed, in his life, teachings, death and resurrection. The apostles preached, no politics, but the Gospel, and they came to know nothing among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified. And from the Acts and the Epistles we learn nothing about the government policies of the time.

The third point Dr. Kerr made was that the Gospel means "morals and salvation through the blood of Christ"; morals because his teachings and his book cover every relation of life, as ruler, subject, employer and employee, father, mother, husband, wife, parent, and child. The church, said Dr. Kerr, has everything to do with morals, and must everlastingly preach the moral code of Christ. But if a political party be organized, or government measure adopted for a moral reform, the ministers have nothing to do with the party or proposed legislation. "We must go on as ever," he said, preaching the morals of Christ's law.

In conclusion, Dr. Kerr contended that the war between the States was brought on in part by political preaching. In the church and in the pulpit, he said, the Gospel must be preached, and the church must furnish men of broad patriotism and Christian character to settle these questions, and this is done by the preaching of the Gospel of Christ. If the pulpit turn aside from this, the great and chief mission of the church, the Gospel is the power of God unto salvation, and the cross is the only thing that can lift up humanity from sin, degradation and woe; teaching and enabling every man to "love God with all his heart, and his neighbor as himself."

THE SPLENDID YEAR OF GROVE AVENUE

Remarkable Showing of $30 Contributed By Each Member of the Congregation.

The annual meeting of the Grove Avenue Baptist Church was held Sunday afternoon. The occasion was a most important one for the congregation, and a large attendance was present. The reports submitted were encouraging to a high degree. During the year the church has raised for all purposes $12,500—the remarkable showing of $30 per capita.

VIRGINIA'S BOOM

Commissioner Koiner Receives a Letter of Interest.

Whenever a Western man calls upon Commissioner Koiner and has a talk with him in regard to prospective settlers, he is pretty sure to make his home in Virginia. A conversation with Mr. Koiner has been the means of locating many Western men in this State. The Commissioner yesterday received the following letter from C. L. Culton, of Edgerton, Wis., which explains itself: "Probably you will remember us calling on you about two weeks ago. Well, we bought 1,500 acres near Rock Castle, in Powhatan county. My brother, with a good man with him, will go down and run the farm. If we make a success of it there will be a great many from this section who will buy property in Virginia. I should like your advice and assistance about a number of things, if it will not cause you much trouble."

Of course, the Commissioner answered all of his questions at length, and gave the Wisconsin man all the information he desired.

WORK ON MAIN STREET

FRONT OF JEFFERSON

Workmen yesterday began to improve the Main Street front of the Jefferson Hotel by remodeling to some extent the front of the building. Rooms will be fitted up there for sampling departments.

Will Send Prices Up.

The destruction of 300,000 pounds of fine sun-cured tobacco in the fire of Sunday night will have the effect of sending prices here to-day. The Continental Tobacco Company, by which the stock was owned, will probably buy heavily to make up for the loss, and this will serve to send the market up.

Practically none of the tobacco, which was some of the finest in the hands of the Continental, was saved. What is left of it will probably be bought up for fertilizer.

FIFTY WINESES

IN CAMPBELL CASE

This Number to Be Allowed Amherst County Judge to Testify in the Investigation.

There is still a great deal of talk in legislative circles concerning the Campbell-Crawford investigation, which will be resumed here on February 10th.

It is understood that the Committee for Courts of Justice, having charge of the case, has allowed Judge Campbell fifty witnesses to start with, and that he will be given even more if he shall desire them. The indication therefore is that the end of the matter is yet far ahead, and that some very spicy scenes may be expected.

Judge Campbell has written a letter here stating that upon examination of the records at Amherst it is discovered that the transaction relating to the "prescription bottle," referred to in the testimony of some of the witnesses as having been loaned to some one by Judge Campbell, took place before the latter went on the bench, and that therefore the evidence was irrelevant.

The depositions referred to as having been taken on the occasion are said to be dated in the year 1888, which was before Judge Campbell was appointed.

Letters have been received by Chairman Southall from Mr. T. C. Payne, of Amherst, and Judge Stephen Adams, of Lynchburg, correcting certain of their testimony in the case. The former's correction relates to the sale of liquor by Southall on the occasion of the case, and specifies June 25, 1892, as the date upon which application was made to him to sit in the Campbell case, and the latter of the corrections are thought to be material.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA

The council starts off with a membership of forty, and as the charter list will be open until the next meeting, it may be swelled to over fifty.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was given Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. H. Breitstein, 118 West Broad Street, in honor of their nephew, Mr. Benjamin Spigel, of Norfolk.

The following were the guests present Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. M. Spigel, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stern, Mr. and Mrs. A. Alperin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. S. A speech in behalf of Mr. Benjamin Spigel was made by Mr. H. Breitstein, followed by Hon. Sam Stern, which was loudly applauded. Music was furnished by Master Mark Stern and Joseph Spigel.

Mr. Solly were appointed a committee to call on the newspapers with reference to the matter.

Dr. Pierce's GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Restores LOST FLESH AND STRENGTH

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. C. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from London but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

JUDGE S. B. WITT SLIGHTLY BETTER

Popular Jurist Will Probably Be Out Shortly—News Items from the Courts.

John Barber was granted a total divorce from his wife, Emma Barber, in the Law and Equity Court yesterday, the depositions and evidence having been considered by Judge Minor some time ago. Sarah Jenkins was granted a divorce from her husband, George Jenkins.

The condition of Judge Witt, of the Hustings Court, was reported slightly improved yesterday, and it is thought he will be down in a few days. Judge Ingram, of the Corporation Court of Manchester, will preside instead of the ill justice this morning, but as the docket for this term has been disposed of he will simply adjourn the court until next month. The jury was discharged yesterday by Judge Mullen.

"Same old story," said an official of the Hustings Court yesterday, when asked regarding the failure of certain ministers to return certificates of marriage after a wedding has been performed by them. The matter has been referred to time again in the local newspapers, and there is absolutely nothing new in it, it being a well-known fact that ministers are delinquent in this direction. However, the statement that a wedding may not be a wedding is a booby, for the court records show plainly that the proper license has been issued.

The January term in all of the city courts is fast drawing to a close, and it is hardly probable that any civil suits or cases of interest will be gone into this week. The dockets for the February term are quite heavy and the officials will find their hands full shortly.

Ladies Chose Officers.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of George W. Pickett Camp, Confederate Veterans, held their annual donation-day last Monday, January 19th, and was more than pleased at the generous response from the public. They wish to return thanks to the following:

Mrs. Wardie Better.

Mrs. J. A. Ward, 723 West Clay Street, who has been very sick, is improving under the care of Dr. Lewis C. Boshier.

A regular meeting of the Church Hill branch of the W. C. A. will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at their home, No. 293 East Franklin Street.

KING CASE DELAYED

ON TECHNICALITIES

Failure to Enter Order Proves Ground for Continuance by the Hustings Court.

Through clever work on the part of Messrs. Hill Carter and Wyndham B. Meredith, counsel for ex-Alderman John M. King, but purely on technicalities, the trial of the case experienced another delay yesterday, and the hearing went over to the next term of the Hustings Court.

When the case was called there was a large crowd of interested citizens in the court room, including many members of the City Council and a number of the old Street Commissioners, colleagues of Mr. King. Among them were Councilmen Curtis, Grimes, Pollock, Whitte, Mills, Glenn, J. M. N. Allen and former Alderman Mosby.

Mr. King was probably the most disinterested person in the court room. He bore the air of a man who felt that he would be exonerated, and smiled and chatted with his friends, many of whom shook his hand and wished him well.

Judge J. M. Mullen presided in the place of Judge Witt, who is still confined to his room. He was called upon to rule upon several motions, and the result of his ruling was that the case went over to next term.

The first point raised was that the grand jury which brought in the indictment was not a legal one, in that its members were not qualified voters under the Constitution. This point was promptly overruled.

Then the point was raised that the presence of Mr. John Winston, the stenographer, in the court room was illegal, and the proceedings of that jury were accordingly null and void. This point was also overruled, but Judge Mullen passed upon it with some hesitancy, and left the inference that he would further consider that point before making a final ruling.

The next motion made by the defense was to quash the venire.

The grounds upon which this point was raised were that the jury had not been properly chosen for the trial of such a case, in that the order of the court had not been entered upon the record as provided by law.

This point, to have been the case, and Judge Mullen so held.

The result is simply one of delay. The jury has been drawn for the next term, but the Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson will ask Judge Ingram to sit for Judge Witt to-day, and he will ask him to draw a special jury for the King case, and he will see that the order is entered upon the record.

The case will be called again next Tuesday, the day after the grand jury meets, and will be set for some day in February.

The Commonwealth will introduce some new evidence at the hearing, but what may be its nature the Commonwealth's Attorney would not say, except to mention that the new witnesses would be gentlemen connected with some of the local banks.
